

Mila Naimark

Contact Mila directly at:

416.928.1825

mila@clockworktalk.com

And visit

www.clockworktalk.com

Mila Naimark, President of Clockwork Talk, brings you and your firm over 20 years of communication expertise. Mila provides coaching, consulting and training to CEOs, senior executives and managers of organizations across North America, covering a wide range of industries including financial services, professional services, healthcare, government, entertainment & media, performing arts and higher education.

Mila holds an MBA degree from the Rotman School of Management at the University of Toronto and an undergraduate degree in psychology and linguistics from the University of Manitoba. She has earned professional coaching certifications with two premier U.S. institutes - The Hudson Institute and the New Ventures West Institute.

She is also qualified to deliver several assessment tools, including the Social Styles, Myers-Briggs, DiSC, LAB Profile, Team Management System and The Birkman Method.

She has built her communication expertise through leadership positions in marketing and communications at Sony Corporation in Tokyo and New York as well as Warner Lambert, Ernst & Young Corporate Management Consulting and a boutique communications firm in Toronto.

She is a published author and has contributed articles on communication to general, business and professional publications.

www.theexecutiveroundtable.ca

Brought to you by:
THE EXECUTIVE ROUNDTABLE
EXCHANGE | ENGAGE | EXCEL