Executive bio

Hugo is an engaging, inspiring and accomplished businessman. He brings over 25 years of executive leadership experience in both the private and public sectors, where he successfully grew and managed businesses through acquisitions and organic growth.

Previously, he was the Director, President and CEO of Toromont Industries and left the company in 2006 on plan to retire. In January 2008, during his "time out", he succumbed again to the corporate siren and came back to join Hy-Drive Technologies Ltd. as President, Chief Executive Officer and Director and was appointed to the Board of Directors in February 2008. Hy-Drive is a start-up technology company currently developing proprietary, hydrogen injection systems designed to enhance combustion efficiency and reduce fuel utilization primarily for the on-highway transport truck market. His mandate was to assist the Company in finalizing technology development and facilitating commercialization.

Hugo holds a B.A. in Psychology from Western University and a B.P.E. (Honours) from the University of Alberta. He is happily married for 30 years to his wife Megan and is a proud father to three terrific sons.
